

SHELL
EDUCATION

Getting to the Teacher

Resource CD included

Level

2

Core of Writing

Richard Gentry
Jan McNeel
Vickie Wallace-Nesler

Essential Lessons for Every Second Grade
Student

Table of Contents

Introduction	5
The Importance of Writing	5
Traits of Quality Writing	6
The Reading and Writing Connection... ..	7
Phases of Writing	8
The Purpose of Assessment	10
How to Use This Book	11
Planning Writing Instruction	11
Components of Writer's Workshop	14
Implementing the Lessons	15
Implementing Writer's Workshop	18
The Writing Conference	19
Top 10 Tips for Creating Successful Writers	21
Correlation to Standards	22
Acknowledgments	27
About the Authors	28
Managing Writer's Workshop	29
Lesson 1: My Writing Folder	31
Lesson 2: Looks Like, Sounds Like, Feels Like	33
Lesson 3: Guidelines for Writer's Workshop	36
Lesson 4: Posture and Pencil Grip	39
Lesson 5: Two-Inch Voices	41
Lesson 6: Turn and Talk	43
Lesson 7: Sharing	46
Lesson 8: Understanding the Writing Process	49
Ideas	53
Lesson 1: Ideas Thinking Chart	55
Lesson 2: My Ponder Pocket	58
Lesson 3: Getting Ideas from Literature	61
Lesson 4: Important People in My Life	63
Lesson 5: Important Places	66
Lesson 6: My Heart Treasures	69
Lesson 7: Amazing Animals	72
Lesson 8: Things I Know List	77
Sentence Fluency	81
Lesson 1: Super Sentence Stems	83
Lesson 2: Growing Sentences	87
Lesson 3: Parts of a Sentence	89
Lesson 4: What's Missing?	94
Lesson 5: When and Where?	97
Lesson 6: Rubber Band Sentences	99
Lesson 7: And Then	102
Lesson 8: Fun with Sentence Variety	104
Lesson 9: Writing Detective: Sentences	107
Organization	111
Lesson 1: Poetry—Simple Acrostic	113
Lesson 2: Poetry—Triante	115
Lesson 3: Making Alphabet Books	118
Lesson 4: My Hand Plan	120
Lesson 5: Now, That's a Story!	126
Lesson 6: Brilliant Beginnings	131
Lesson 7: Excellent Endings	133
Lesson 8: Telling, Sketching, and Writing Narrative Text	136
Lesson 9: Writing a Letter	141
Lesson 10: Addressing an Envelope	145
Lesson 11: Informative: My 1-2-3 Report	147
Lesson 12: I Know How To	151

Table of Contents (cont.)

Word Choice 155

- Lesson 1: Using High Frequency Words157
- Lesson 2: Using Our Senses.....161
- Lesson 3: More Action Words165
- Lesson 4: Word Power168
- Lesson 5: A Rainbow of Words170
- Lesson 6: Sounds All Around from A to Z173
- Lesson 7: Awesome Adjectives183
- Lesson 8: Sparkling Synonym Stars ...185
- Lesson 9: Transition Words.....188
- Lesson 10: Lucky Me Similes.....193

Voice 197

- Lesson 1: More Than Happy, Sad, and Mad199
- Lesson 2: Voice Times Two202

Conventions 205

- Lesson 1: Using Our Sound Charts207
- Lesson 2: Count and Spell217
- Lesson 3: Capital Rap.....220
- Lesson 4: Rockin' Editors223
- Lesson 5: My Editing Tools.....226
- Lesson 6: Proper Punctuation.....229
- Lesson 7: Editing with CUPS231

Appendices 234

- Appendix A: Conferring Resources234
- Appendix B: Assessment Resources ...242
- Appendix C: Mentor Text List.....250
- Appendix D: Additional Resources257
- Appendix E: References266
- Appendix F: Contents of the Teacher Resource CD.....269

Now, That's a Story!

Standards

- Uses strategies to organize written work
- Writes in a variety of forms or genres

Materials

- Chart paper
- Markers
- My Story Mountain (page 128; mountainstory.pdf)
- Story Mountain Cards (pages 129–130; storymountaincards.pdf)

Mentor Texts

- Goldilocks and the Three Bears by Jan Brett
- The Lion and the Mouse by Jerry Pinkney
- Amos and Boris by William Steig
- See Mentor Text List in Appendix C for other suggestions.

Procedures

Note: Select your favorite narrative for this mini-lesson to show the story development. Discuss story structure throughout the day during whole- and small-group reading, as well as during read alouds.

Think About Writing

1. Explain to students that writers write many different kinds of stories, essays, and compositions. Tell students that one important part of writing for an author is to organize his or her story.
2. Review a mentor text if desired, and emphasize the structure of the story.

Teach

3. Tell students, "Today I will show you how to organize a story by using an author's secret tool. That tool is called a Story Mountain."
4. Display My Story Mountain (page 128). Describe and discuss each part of the mountain. Explain how the writer starts at the bottom of the mountain and builds our excitement and curiosity until we reach the problem and then heads back down the mountain as the problem is solved.
5. Draw the shape of a story mountain on chart paper. Retell the story of The Lion and the Mouse using the Story Mountain Cards (pages 129–130). As you tell the story, tape the appropriate cards on the mountain in the correct place. Review and discuss the structure of the story when you are done retelling the story.

Engage

6. Have students Heads-up, Stand-up, Partner-up and work with partners to discuss the story of The Three Little Pigs. Ask them to determine each story element using the story mountain. Allow time for discussion and then write the results on a new story mountain as students share their ideas.

Now, That's a Story! (cont.)

Apply

7. Remind students to organize their writing in a way that holds the readers' attention and builds an exciting story. Also remind them that stories always include a beginning, middle and end.

Write/Conference

8. Provide time for students to write a story starting with characters and a setting. Observe student behaviors and assist before moving off to confer with individuals or groups. Some students may need additional support to build story structure. Note observations in your conferring notebook.

Spotlight Strategy

9. Spotlight student story building. For example, "Spotlight on Maria! She is building a story and has started with characters and a setting. I can hardly wait to hear about the problem of these characters. Now, that's going to be some story!"

Share

10. Select one or two students to take the author's chair and share their important writing work. Allow others to share as appropriate.

Homework

Ask students to choose their favorite stories. Have students make a list of the story elements. Ask students to be ready to share their findings in Writer's Workshop tomorrow.

Name: _____ Date: _____

My Story Mountain

Directions: Complete the graphic organizer below to plan your story.

The graphic organizer is shaped like a mountain. At the top is a rounded rectangle labeled 'Problem: What's the trouble?' with two lines for writing. Below this are two rounded rectangles: 'Build-Up: What are your characters doing?' on the left and 'Fix-Up: How does this problem get solved? Who helps?' on the right, each with three lines. In the center is a large triangle labeled 'Title:' with one line. At the bottom are two rounded rectangles: 'Introduction Characters: Who? Setting: When/Where?' on the left and 'Wrap-Up: What happened at the end of the story?' on the right, each with two lines.

Problem:
What's the trouble?

Build-Up:
What are your characters doing?

Fix-Up:
How does this problem get solved? Who helps?

Title:

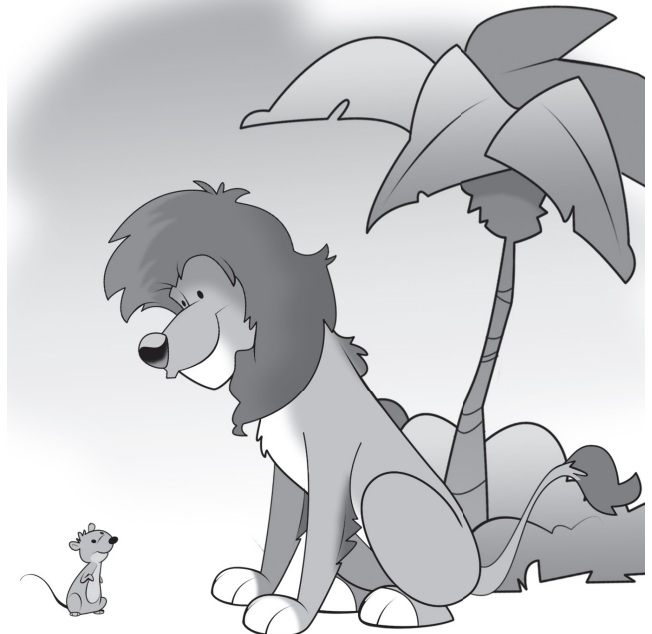

Introduction
Characters: Who?
Setting: When/Where?

Wrap-Up:
What happened at the end of the story?

Story Mountain Cards

Teacher Directions: Cut out the following cards and use them as directed in the lesson.

The Lion and the Mouse

Story Mountain Cards (cont.)

